

Reduce the impact of potential disruption with Supplier Intelligence and AI-powered Insights

The Challenge

Procurement and supply chain professionals are often under-resourced yet responsible for anticipating risk on a global scale for hundreds or thousands of strategic supply chain partners.

The task of proactively managing supply chain risks becomes even more difficult due to gaps in data and siloed tools used to identify and prioritize events and legacy solutions that overwhelm users with too many alerts.

Craft's Supplier Intelligence Platform Makes It Easy

Anticipate changes that impact the resilience of your supply chain with reliable data, configurable event monitoring, and intelligent alerts to understand and prioritize threats, and proactively avoid disruption.

Everything you need to manage supplier risk in one easy-to-use platform:
